
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Sixth International Conference on Environmental Compliance and Enforcement in San Jose, Costa Rica was made possible by the personal and financial contributions of many organizations and individuals. An Executive Planning Committee (EPC) to the International Network of Environmental Compliance and Enforcement, INECE, whose membership is listed in the Proceedings, provided leadership and direction in the design of the program, selection of the speakers and topic experts, and identification of individuals from a range of nations who would be in the best position to share practical experience in environmental compliance and enforcement to improve or develop domestic compliance and enforcement programs and to engage in ongoing networking, capacity building and enforcement cooperation.

The Conference could not have been a success without the active and meaningful contributions of the participants, as well as the cooperation of their organizations who allowed these experts to come together for an entire week to combine knowledge and experience in working towards better environmental enforcement and compliance networks. A special note of thanks to the conference speakers, topic experts, moderators, facilitators and rapporteurs and those who volunteered to prepare papers, all of who are colleagues making a special effort to share their experiences and help facilitate our exchanges at the Conference. Special thanks to those contributing materials for the Conference exhibits.

The participants were provided with a choice of joining one of six field visits to diverse environments throughout Costa Rica. We would like to thank everyone who assisted in arranging the field visits, as well as those who volunteered their services as tour guides and lecturers. The field visits turned out to be a great success and were very enjoyable. Their efforts assisted greatly in allowing the Conference participants to get a real feel for Costa Rica.

Funding of the Conference logistics, planning and workshop development was provided by the conference sponsors: the Inspectorate of Housing, Spatial Planning and the Environment, The Netherlands; the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, United States; the European Commission; The Ministry of the Environment and Energy of the Republic of Costa Rica (MINAE); the Center for International Environmental Law; The World Bank; United Nations Environment Programme, Environment Canada; and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. Funding of participants was graciously offered by The Netherlands Ministry of Housing, Spatial Planning and the Environment, International Department, the World Bank, the U.S. Asia Environmental Partnership, Comisión Centroamericana de Ambiente y Desarrollo, the International Fund for Animal Welfare, the Commission on Environmental Cooperation, and the U.S. Agency for International Development.

We would like to thank Ambassador John Danilovich and his staff at the US Embassy in Costa Rica for their contributions to the Conference. In particular, we would like to thank Marcela Ramirez, Andrea Borel, and David Alarid for their valuable services, including the two field trips led by Ms. Ramirez and Ms. Borel. Also, we would like to express our gratitude to Mr. Eduardo Muller and Alejandra Salazar of the University for International Cooperation for helping to organize the Saturday event for local participants and guiding the Zoo Ave field visit. Additionally, thank you to Ms. Patricia Madrigal of the Costa Rican Environmental Law Association for assisting in the planning of the Saturday event for local participants.

We would like to thank Honorable Wim Wessels of the Dutch Embassy for opening his residence Saturday evening and sponsoring a wonderful reception for local Conference participants. Additionally, we would like to personally thank his staff, Mr. Geert Geut and Ms. Myrtille Danse, for their valuable assistance serving on the local planning committee and in particular, for their hard work organizing the field visits. We would also like to thank Ana Victoria Rojas, Carlos Manuel Chacon, and Rolando Castro of the Center for Environmental Law and Natural Resources for organizing and facilitating the Conservation Easements field visit.

In addition to the funding offered to assist our Participants in attending the Conference, a variety of other services and activities lended to the success of the Conference, sponsored by organizations and people in Costa Rica. We would like to thank the Instituto Costarricense de Electricidad, especially Gerardo Chavez and Marjorie Gonzalez, for sponsoring the Internet Cafe and a dinner trip to Pueblo Antiguo for participants. Both were a huge success.

Thank you to Mr. Franz Tattenbach, National Coordinator of the Costa Rican Office for Joint Implementation for his well-received remarks during the dinner reception and Mr. Ricardo Ulate, Director of the International Cooperation of the Ministry of Environment and Energy of Costa Rica for his remarks at the Opening Plenary Session. A special thanks to Mr. Eduardo Vilchez, Direccion General de Migracion y Extranjera and his staff, Ana Virginia Lizano, Carlos Castro for working so diligently to secure authorization for entry into Costa Rica for many of the Conference participants. Thanks to their tireless efforts, every single invitee was able to participate.

Thank you to Mr. Oscar Ramirez of the Ministerio del Ambiente de Costa Rica and Mr. William Rodriguez of the Ministerio de Agricultura de Costa Rica for their critical assistance with the customs process, without which the Conference could not have succeeded.

Special thanks to Mr. Jo Gerardu and Ms. Machteld Brokerhof, both of VROM, along with Mr. Davis Jones, Mr. Richard Emory and Mr. Thomas Maslany of the USEPA for assisting the INECE secretariat and the Executive Planning Committee, finalizing the Conference program, brochure and supporting materials, assisting in the management of the on-site activities at the Conference and editing the Proceedings (Volumes 1 and 2). Finally, we express our gratitude to Ms. Adriana Bianchi of the World Bank Institute for assisting the Secretariat in editing the Conference evaluation form and providing insightful questions.

A special note of appreciation to the Center for International Environmental Law subgrantees Earthpace LLC, Mr. Kenneth Markowitz, Ms. Marcy Markowitz, and Ms. Catherine Spangler and EcoConsulta, Ms. Carolina Mauri and Mr. Lawrence Pratt without whose tireless efforts, energy and dedication the week long conference and side events may not have been a success. They provided excellent support to the EPC, sub-committees, and Conference participants, as well as managed Conference logistics, such as drafting the Conference program, brochure and supporting materials, and managing on-site activities at the Conference. Additionally, Earthpace LLC designed, maintained and continuously built upon the INECE Web site and its many features, prepared and edited the Conference Proceedings (Volumes 1 and 2) and the 5th Edition of the INECE Newsletter, which was distributed at the Conference.
