

Proceedings for International Workshop on Compliance and Enforcement of Trading Schemes in Environmental Protection

16th – 18th March 2004

Worcester College, Oxford

Tuesday 16th March 2004

From 17:00 Registration
Welcome reception with fork buffet – Worcester College

Wednesday 17th March 2004

08:45 Welcome
Professor Richard Macrory, Environment Agency Board Member Mr. Durwood Zaelke, INECE Secretariat

Session One – Role of Trading in Environmental Protection

Chairman: Mr. Dieter Helm

08:55 A European Perspective
Mr. Chris Dodwell, Global Atmospheres Division, Department of Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, UK

09:15 A North American Perspective
Mr. Brian McLean, Director, Office of Atmospheric Programs, US EPA

09:35 An Asian Perspective
Mr. Honjun Zhang, International Environmental Practice Group, Emerging Markets Group, Beveridge & Diamond, P.C., Washington D.C.

09:55 An African Perspective
Mr Robert Wabunoha, Senior Legal Counsel, National Environment Management Authority, Uganda

10:05 A South American Perspective
Mr Gustavo Trinidad, Chief Legal Counsel, Brazil Ministry of the Environment

- 10:15 Panel Discussion
- 10:35 Compliance issues with the UK Emissions Trading Scheme and a look ahead to other Trading Schemes in the UK.
Mr. Elliot Morley, Environment Minister, UK Government
- 11:00 Coffee break
- 11:30 Compliance and Enforcement Experiences in The Netherlands
Mr. Kees van Kuijen, Director of The Netherlands Emissions Authority
- 11:50 Introduction to the Workshop
Chairman
- 12:00 4 Workshops:
- What are best practice for compliance and enforcement for trading schemes?
Workshop Facilitators: Nick Johnstone and Neil Davies
 - What are the challenges to implementing an enforcement programme to support trading schemes?
Workshop Facilitators: Ken Markowitz and Chris Dowell
- 13:00 Lunch
- 14:00 Presentation of 5 key findings from each group to all delegates.

Session Two: The Importance of Compliance and Enforcement in Trading Schemes.

Chairman: Dr. Dieter Helm, New College, University of Oxford

- 14:45 Keynote Address – Trading as a Modern Regulatory Approach
Sir John Harman, Chairman of the Environment Agency (England and Wales)
- 15:15 Experiences with Tradable Permits in OECD Countries: Issues of Compliance and Enforcement.
Mr. Nick Johnstone, OECD
- 15:45 Coffee Break
- 16:15 Compliance and Enforcement Aspects of Sulphur Trading Scheme in the U.S.
Mr. Joe Kruger, Resources for the Future, Washington DC, USA
- 16:35 Compliance and Enforcement Aspects of Salinity and Nutrient Trading in Australia.
Ms. Katy Brady, New South Wales Environment Protection Authority, Australia
- 16:55 Greenhouse Gas Trading in Europe and Project-based Compliance Mechanisms.

Mr. Jürgen Lefevere, DG Environment, European Commission

17:15 Panel Discussion.
17:50 Concluding remarks from Chairman.

18:00 Close of Day.

Evening Conference Dinner at Worcester College

Speaker: Baroness Barbara Young, Chief Executive, Environment Agency (England and Wales)

19:00 Drinks
19:30 Dinner

Thursday 18th March 2004

The Need for Effective Compliance and Enforcement Practices in Trading Schemes

Chairman: Dr. Andrew Skinner, Environment Agency

09:00 A View from Industry
Mr. Charles Nicholson, Chairman of the UK Emissions Trading Group

09:20 Views from NGOs
Ms Bryony Worthington, Senior Campaigner, Friends of the Earth
Ms M J Mace, Programme Director, Foundation for International Law and Development

09:50 A View from the Financial Sector
Mr. Rupert Edwards, Climate Change Capital

10:00 Panel Discussion

10:50 Coffee

Chairman: Mr. Gerard Wolters, Inspector General, Ministry of Housing, Spatial Planning and the Environment, The Netherlands

11:10 Open Forum Debate

13:00 Closing Remarks
Durwood Zaelke, Director of the INECE Secretariat

13:15 Lunch

-----Depart-----